Ah the rainbow flag...

The pride flag, like all flags, is a signal of either geopolitical property or cultural conquest.

The pride flag is the latter, and more than just a symbol of victorious cultural conquest (or at least temporary occupational conquest), as it is a sacrilegious mockery of the original symbols creator, message and intent.

In Christian lore, the rainbow was God's symbol of covenant to the world he would not flood it again, after the necessary cleansing of all corrupted human flesh. (A situation incidentally, we have recently arrived at once again)

A cursory glance at the rainbow light spectrum reveals seven coloured bands: ROYGBIV

The pride flag has six: ROYGBV

The numerical symbology is very much deliberate and indicative of the intent, along with the name "Pride" which is in fact a biblical sin, being paraded as if it were a virtue, which is intentional mockery and humiliation.

The Pride flag in its current form is also the exact same flag used to signal noahidism, which actually signals the real geopolitical property holders, but that's a rabbit hole for another day.

What exactly does the gay pride flag signify?

It signifies the successful cultural occupation of the west and a direct, unmistakable and deliberate slander against and rejection of, Christianity and the civilisation it inspired.

It is indeed the swastika of our time.
