It's everywhere, mate. There are two sides in any country:

- "good": progressives (LGBTQ, open borders, big government, globalism, etc.)

- "bad": conservatives.

I'm from Florida and I was indoctrinated into it when I went to college.

It has essentially been drilled into American society, thorough academia and the media, at western civilization is the root of all evil and the rest of Earth would be a beautiful panacea of human flourishing of not for our damnable exploitation. Attend an American ...

Communism and it's consequences. 🙄

I am curious, does the savant only infiltrate white extremist groups, or is the show implying only white extremist groups exist? One would expect a tv series that embraces multiculturalism, to not portray every single bad guy as being of the same race, when they go out of their way to make the good guys a wide and diverse cast of peoples.

It's a bad sign if the shows writers are going to pretend only white men can be extremists. If we're willing to push that narrative what other false narratives are they pushing. perhaps we will see the stupidity of the progressive ideas "you can't be racist to white people" or "only white people are a threat to america"
