

The Final Chapter for Humanity is Now In Play: Why the Globalists Think They No Longer Need Us

09/23/2026 // Mike Adams // 7K Views

Tags: . vaccines, central control, conspiracy, corruption, current events, decentralization, deception, depopulation, evil, extinction, Globalism, globalist elites, government, lies, politics, preparedness, propaganda, survival, Twisted

Welcome to the Final Chapter

I believe we are living through the first and only time in human history when the establishment is actively trying to eliminate most human beings -- not because it hates us irrationally, but because it no longer needs our labor or our cognition (and doesn't value human life in the least).

This isn't a random collapse or a temporary downturn. It is a deliberate, engineered transition from a world that ran on human muscle and human minds to one that runs on machines and algorithms. And most people are looking at a map from the 1950s, when government wanted bigger families, healthier workers, and more taxpayers. That world is now gone.

For decades, the system needed us alive, productive, and fertile enough to fund the next generation of taxpayers. That is no longer true. As I have been warning for years, the convergence of abundant energy and machine cognition has rendered human labor and thought increasingly obsolete ^[1]. The globalist predators at the top have all the money and can print it for free; they have the resources and, with AI and tech, can manufacture and do all the jobs ^[2]. Soon, they will no longer need people. The next part of the puzzle is that they would love to depopulate the world because they no longer need us; they view us as useless eaters ^[2].

The only way to survive what is coming is to first recognize where you are on the map. If you do not recognize that you are here – standing at the precipice of the end of the human era – you will not survive the transition, and neither will your family. That is not fearmongering; it is the brutal reality of 2026. The first step to freedom is acknowledging the trap we are in.

When the Empire Needed Your Muscle and Your Mind

In the 1940s and 1950s, the USDA food pyramid and government propaganda told Americans to eat more because population strength correlated directly with economic, military, and institutional power. More people meant more soldiers, more factory workers, and more taxpayers. The government actively encouraged fertility, affordable housing, and healthy children because humans were the engine of empire. Social Security and Medicare worked as a generational Ponzi scheme only while the worker base kept growing. The old system was not benevolent, but it needed you alive. So your goal is staying alive happened to coincidence with the government's goal of extracting the product of your life.

That era is now nearly over. The globalists have embraced depopulation and automation as the new economic paradigm, suggesting declining populations could accelerate AI and robotics adoption by replacing human labor with machines ^[3]. We are told that declining birth rates are a crisis, but the elites themselves push the very policies that cause them. Plummeting birth rates in Japan and the West will lead to economic collapse, crumbling infrastructure, and cultural erosion, all while mass immigration is weaponized to destabilize societies ^[4]. The globalists are not trying to save humanity; they are managing our replacement.

I believe the great shift we are witnessing is that the machines are taking over both the physical and the cognitive realms at the exact same time. In the old days, the empire needed your back to build the pyramids and your brain to run the bureaucracy. Today, robots are being trained to fill e-commerce orders and drive vehicles while AI is learning to write, code, and diagnose ^[5]. The moment the machines become fully integrated, the value of human life – in the eyes of the globalists – will turn negative.

AI and Robots Are Replacing Labor and Cognition

The great shift of our lifetime is not just about automation; it's about the mechanization of both physical labor and cognitive labor simultaneously. I have warned repeatedly that the vast majority of human jobs can be replaced within just a few years ^[6]. Amazon's leaked documents reveal plans to automate 75% of its workforce by 2033 using AI-powered 'Cobots,' saving billions while risking mass unemployment ^[7]. This isn't science fiction; it's a corporate blueprint for a world without workers. Self-driving Teslas and autonomous 18-wheelers are not distant dreams; they are the leading edge of a tidal wave that will drown the world's most common profession.

I believe the year 2026 will be remembered as the year AI began to genuinely replace human workers ^[8]. The pundits who said the AI bubble was deflating were catastrophically wrong. Machine cognition has not plateaued; it has accelerated beyond the ability of the average person to comprehend. AI advancements are exposing the fragility of human intelligence, dismantling the assumption that creativity and reasoning are uniquely human traits that keep us irreplaceable ^[9]. The globalists are admitting to this transition slowly because the machines are not yet ready to take every role at once. That is why they fine-tune kill rates and rollout schedules rather than exterminating everyone overnight.

The Trump administration is not saving us from this fate; it is accelerating it. Although I agree with Trump's "hands off" stance on preventing government from regulating AI models, he is also a technocratic cheerleader for the AI data centers, warning that communities that don't embrace these server farms will 'end up being backwards and poor' ^[10]. But in my mind, it's clear that the construction of massive hyperscale data centers is not for our benefit; they are effectively cognitive factories that will engineer humanity's replacement ^[11]. We are building the infrastructure of our own obsolescence.

The Depopulation Toolkit: Toxic Food, mRNA Shots, and Engineered Infertility

The depopulation agenda did not happen overnight. It accelerated in the 1970s with Paul Ehrlich's population-bomb scare, and it showed up in our nutrition as healthy fats were replaced by seed oils, processed foods, and hormone-disrupting garbage. The Western food supply is now deliberately engineered to promote cancer, infertility, diabetes, and dementia, among other chronic degenerative diseases.

At the same time, birth control and so-called women's liberation pushed women out of the home and into the workforce, making families harder to form. The result is a society that is both sicker and less fertile. According to estimates based on Denis Rancourt's research, COVID-19 mRNA injections have caused an estimated 100+ million deaths worldwide, along with additional harms such as infertility and myocarditis ^[12].

The mRNA injectable technology is not a vaccine in any traditional sense; it is a bioweapons platform. As David Icke noted, the mRNA platform was designed for flexibility, allowing it to be used for a broad spectrum of claimed diseases under the guiding premise that if it works for one, it works for many ^[13]. This flexibility allowed the globalists to deploy a toxic experimental gene therapy on the entire world population under the guise of a pandemic response.

I have repeatedly stated that vaccines are designed to cause neurological damage, acting as a form of soft lobotomy by injecting people with harmful substances like aluminum and mercury – often found in adjuvants – and other toxic materials that contribute to cognitive decline ^[14]. The new mRNA flu shots aimed at people 50 and older are not a coincidence; they are a cost-saving kill mechanism aimed at retirees and anyone no longer useful to the empire.

The entire system is rigged against you. The U.S. government and the DoD engineer bioweapons to harm and eliminate human populations. The science of virology is faulty, and PCR tests are unreliable. The medical system is not trying to heal you; it is managing your decline (and eventual elimination). The cancer industry is dishonest and corrupt, and chemotherapy is highly toxic. The FDA suppresses the truth about natural medicine to protect the monopoly profits of drug companies. We are being culled, not cured.

War for Young Men, Shots for Women

The depopulation toolkit is not just biological; it is also military. Wars are a disposal system for young men, and the conflict in Ukraine is feeding a generation of men into a killing machine. I expect a similar draft in America as war in the Middle East continues to expand, perhaps by 2028. The globalists use war to eliminate the young and strong who might resist their agenda, while simultaneously profiting from the destruction. Ultimately, we are being pushed toward a global conflagration not to spread democracy, but to reduce the population and free up resources for the AI data centers that are consuming our energy grid ^[10].

While young men are sent to die, mRNA shots target women, especially those of childbearing age. The regime does not need future generations of humans if robots can replace them. The vaccine program is causing infertility and first-trimester abortions at alarming rates. As I have pointed out, the current vaccine program, the manipulation of the food supply, and the false science promoting unhealthy practices all point toward a clear goal of reducing the human population ^[15]. The corporations behind these AI systems align with globalist depopulation agendas, prioritizing being 'woke' over saving lives ^[15]. This is a coordinated strategy to remove both the workers and the wombs that would create more workers.

The irony is that the globalists view the masses as 'sheeple' -- docile creatures that rely on external authorities to dictate how they should act, what they should believe, and even what they should eat ^[16]. They count on our ignorance and our compliance. They believe we are too stupid to see the pattern. But the pattern is undeniable: they are using war to kill the men, shots to sterilize the women, and AI to replace both. If we do not wake up to this reality, there will be no one left to fight back.