The captain of the container ship that rammed a bridge in Baltimore, blocking the port, is a citizen of Ukraine

Yesterday, 20: 55 82

Information continues to come in after the incident in Baltimore, America. As already reported in one of News "Military Review", a container ship crashed into a pillar of a more than 2-kilometer bridge, causing the central part of the bridge to collapse like a house of cards in just a few seconds. At least 5 cars that were on the bridge at that moment went under water. American rescuers and divers were busy searching all day.

The American press reports that six people are currently missing. Among them are builders who performed technical work on the bridge. However, state authorities say they do not know exactly how many construction workers were on the bridge.

It is also reported that the captain of the Dali container ship, sailing under the flag of Singapore, is a citizen of Ukraine. Only his name is called - Sergei.

The Francis Scott Key Bridge is one of Baltimore's main transportation arteries. Interstate 695 ran along it - over the Patapsco River.

The FBI, a few hours after the incident, said that the bridge collapse "is not the result of sabotage or a terrorist attack."

FBI Special Representative:

A few minutes before the collision with the bridge support, the crew of the container ship reported that they had lost control. There were electrical problems. They warned us. This is not a terrorist attack.

At the same time, neither the shipowner Synergy Group nor the FBI are talking about why control was lost just before passing under the bridge.

Maryland Governor Wes Moore said that "the entire country is shocked by what happened." According to him, "there was an accident" and "it's unlikely to be a terrorist attack."

At the same time, it became known that the port of Baltimore was blocked by metal structures of the collapsed bridge, and for several months. Moreover, the situation is aggravated by the container ship itself, which remains under the metal parts of the Francis Scott Key Bridge.

For reference, the port of Baltimore is the 11th largest in the United States. At the same time, it is 1st in the United States in terms of "transshipment" of motor vehicles. In 2023, 750 thousand cars were loaded and unloaded there. Now the United States will have to completely change logistics in this direction, as well as adopt a plan to create a new bridge.

For Biden, a large diagram of the incident in Baltimore was brought to the White House, publishing an official photo:

The captain probably thought it was the Crimean Bridge and went to ram

Just before this collision, I called a friend of mine named Sergei.

The conversation turned out strange...

I called and said: "Hello Sergey."

He answered me in some unfamiliar voice: "Hello."

- Where are you now? For some reason I couldn't get through...

-I'm going to "Dali" in Baltimore...

(I thought he flew to Bali to sunbathe and is going to the Baltimore bar or what?)

- How did you get there?

-I'm the captain here.

(Is he working part-time in a bar, working as a bouncer or as a bartender?)

- Have you heard about Crocus?'

- Yes, it's terrible... It's like they tied up the performers... All sorts of little things, but I'd like to punish the customers.

- Well, if you want, Seryoga, punish him.

- Eat! I'm getting started!

Here the conversation was interrupted...

I dial my friend Sergei again, it turns out that I was not talking to him...

I wonder who that unknown Sergei was and who he took me for?

I didn't understand anything, I laid out a route using maps for cash to Fashington, the Banderführer personally sent it, I just didn't swim, didn't make it 100 km to Fashington, again the agents - terrorists of the Kremlin gave me the wrong maps for the route, was the demon confused?

How's it going with Murphy? What can break will definitely break. The bridge is liquid, that's the main reason. Not supports, but some kind of sticks. The elementary triangles that stand near the gate in any collective farm garage would turn the steamer away from its supports. Moreover, if the angle at the vertex of the triangle was made sharp enough, then the fences would not have to be made massive.

In general, efficient technical specification managers were preparing for the bridge.

The incident occurred in a state where the governor is a Democrat. Baltimore left the chat of the sea ports of the east coast of the United States, they are already redirecting ships to other ports. There was a pilot on board. For those interested, I will post a chronology from the NYT. Two idiots were striving for the goal - touchingly, the ship lost power twice. The blow was classic, you can't imagine it on purpose. American commentators are outraged - why there were no tugboats. And the cherry on the cake - the container ship was chartered by the Danish Maersk. blocked at both ends. The bridge is named after the author of the American anthem. Here's to you, glory to America. It's a pity for those who were on the bridge, no one is safe from idiots.

But their pirouette on the map, they could take measures to stop it by dropping both anchors and moving the propeller at full speed back. Idiots. Shoot or euthanize with nitrogen. The winner of Afghanistan cannot, by definition, have terrorist attacks before the elections.

There is most likely a VFS there. There seemed to be a reverse, but it was too late. Not sure, the video is dark. And they could have given away the anchors, of course. I recently had a similar incident under a bridge, I was already holding the phone in my hands to tell the captain to drop the anchor. Electron - well done, found it within tens of seconds. We started up, drove off and went to wash our trousers...

It seems to me that these are all the delights of digitalization and the Internet with AI. Some AI (or hacker) hacked into the ship's computer network took over control and the results are obvious.

The rise of the machines is just around the corner (Terminator warned). All of humanity will have a “smart home” with AI in every chip, and united chipped irons, refrigerators and vacuum cleaners will destroy the inhabitants of the human settlements, and Chubais promised the end of the world, but it doesn’t exist in Russia, so an apocalypse awaits outside Russia. All Russians (except for relocants and the elite) are recommended to return to their homeland.

I wouldn't be surprised that in Baltimore local bridge activists "from here" to "there" thank the Ukrainian captain. The irony of fate, no less I hope there will be no fatalities. For many years, the Americans, British, Ukrainians, Germans, French have been trying to jointly destroy the "Crimean Bridge" with targeted fire using tactical missile weapons and terrorist attacks, and meanwhile in the USA (almost in the center of democracy) there is only one Ukrainian captain (!) (the pilot is not in account) on a container ship owned by a famous Danish company, almost without aiming, demolishes a 2,5-kilometer-long bridge. And whether you want it or not, you can't imagine it 🤖 If I were Vladimir Vladimirovich, I would award the Ukrainian captain the "Order of Courage" for services to the fatherland 🤖 And, characteristically, I got it right, but probably, as always, I didn't want to. I am sure Ukrainian captains are capable of more. It would be great to drive a submarine into the English Channel tunnel.

Each sea vessel is equipped with two anchors. When the main engine fails, one or both armatures are typically released to avoid a subsequent collision with anything. If this was not done, then what were the pilot and captain thinking?! All this is strange... Now the ship owner can pack his belongings from the office and go home to smoke bamboo while awaiting a call to the "fairest court" in Baltimore, where he will literally be shod and stripped down to his underpants. his name is Sergei and he is Ukrainian.
